Erasmus+ Partnerships:

In the last three year, we have been part of many international youth projects officially. We have actively been part of Erasmus+ projects in totals such as Youth Exchanges, Youth Training Courses, ESC Projects and the results can be seen on our social media accounts: <https://linktr.ee/saltgenclikdernegi>

Apart from the projects organised or partnered in the name of our organisation (as SALT Youth Association), we have been part of more projects in the last three years, which were organised in other organisations' names. But we have contributed or participated as partner, participant, trainer, facilitator, or guest speaker.

Almost every member of our organisation is an EX-EVS (ESC) volunteer and participated in several Youth (Youth Exchange, Youth Workers Training Course, Contact Making Seminar, Job Shadowing, Seminars etc.) projects within the Youth in Action area, ESC or Erasmus+ Projects.

Please give information on the key staff/persons involved in this application and on the competences and previous experience that they will bring to the project.

SALT Youth Association's project coordinators are experienced and eager to include as many youth as possible in international events.

Depending on the project theme, SALT can reflect the previous experiences and know-how before, during and after the project by sending valuable Turkish participants to the event. SALT Youth Association has a wide range of profiles of members from all over Turkey, so participants would fit the theme of the project. As for the theme of the project, SALT Youth members are open to various topics, and we select our participants according to their backgrounds and motivation. Our board consists of 16 active youth workers and they are all active in projects. SALT Youth Association members, (about 50 registered) come from different parts of Turkey, but mostly İzmir. They are mostly university students who are interested and skilled in various areas from media, management, culture to social inclusion, outdoor activities, digital workshops or social activities.

SALT Youth Association has a well-organized system to get applications and select the participants for each project. We put our projects online on our social media, and our members can log in with their individual user accounts to fill in the application form of the projects. Then, dozens of candidate applications are evaluated by the project committees and the executive board of the organization. Finally, several online and face-to-face meetings are held with participants and they are prepared for the projects thoroughly. Then, the board or project committee evaluates and chooses the best participants as possible according to their profile, background, skills, and motivation.

From the moment the participants are selected, they are monitored, advised and assisted during the whole process of the project, especially during the preparation phase. SALT has a media workshop titled "Salt Media Community", and we give short pre-departure training to participants about the use of media in projects. We also organize dissemination activities in this workshop office with the participation of our young members.
